BUSINESS HIGH HOLDS CLASS DAY EXERCISES

Two-Year Graduates Bid School Farewell in the Assembly Hall, N. C. Kaletski Presiding.

The two-year graduating class of June, 1916, of Business High School bade its school days farewell last night in the school assembly hall with appropriate exercises. Norman C. Kaletski presiding. The "hit" of the evening was the "American-Hawaiian Trio," composed of Donald Libbey, Marc Phillips and Sanford Covington. All the members of the trio are graduates of the school. Gabriel G. Tauber gave a humorous class history in which he spoke feelingly of the well worn pathway for delinquents to the principal's office.

Leroy Finnin presented the under-graduates with the usual address on behalf of his class, speaking seriously on the problems that confront those remaining in regard to student government, which has been in force to some extent in the school for the past year. The reply was made by Clifford H. Moore, who was more of a humorous nature, opening with a statement to the effect that the graduates must be taken seriously, if even only in view of the fact that they are graduates.

Class Poem and Prophecy.
Viola C. Harper gave a vocal solo, and Althea M. Thorneill presented the class prophecy, showing the "futures" of the members of the class in a large picture frame rigged up for the purpose.

Allan Davis, the principal, addressed the class, telling them that although their days of school study were over, they should continue to study in their work. Helen O. Lindstrom gave the valedictory, after which the class song, written by Leila Voile, was sung. Dancing concluded the exercises.

Girl's Death Held Accidental.

Coroner Nevitt yesterday afternoon conducted an inquest at the morgue over the body of Helen Johnson, six years old, daughter of Gustaf Johnson, a marine, and Mrs. Alice Johnson, who was killed early yesterday morning as a result of a collision between her father's motor cycle and a wagon belonging to E. M. Thompson, Clinton Md., on the Pennsylvania avenue bridge. The jury reached a verdict of accidental death. Mr. and Mrs. Johnson, who were seriously injured, probably will recover.

DEMOCRATIC WOMEN GIVE ENTERTAINMENT

Are Hostesses at Musical—Planning Active Part in Coming Campaign.

Despite the inclement weather last evening, the musical given by the National Democratic Women of America at the New Ebbitt House was a success. Mrs. George A. Jones, the president, and Mrs. Helen Nelson Doocy, chairman of the campaign committee, are planning an active campaign here in conjunction with the chairmen of the various committees.

Secretary M. Adoo of the Treasury Department, Secretary Joseph P. Tumulty and Cornelius Ford, the public printer, were among the patrons of the affair last evening.

One of the best received numbers of the evening was presented by the American Hawaiian Trio, accompanied by Miss Sylvia Metcalf. The trio, consisting of Donald Libbey, Marc Phillips and Sanford Covington, played numerous popular Hawaiian airs. Miss Metcalf accompanying in several of them.

Mrs. David H. Kincheole, wife of Representative Kincheole of Kentucky, whistled several solos. Miss Margaret M. Campbell, daughter of the late Representative Timothy J. Campbell of New York, contributed solos in English, French and German. Miss Sade C. Styrton played piano solos. Dr. William E. Diefendorfer and Robert Patterson played cornet duets, accompanied by Mrs. Patterson. Mrs. George Metcalf sang "The Irish Volunteer's Farewell," an original song by Dr. Diefendorfer.

Decorations included a Wilson-Marshall banner, American flags and cut flowers. The audience included Miss Althea Carnell, treasurer of the Plastic Art Club of Philadelphia, and Miss Gurlu Luise Corey.
